 - C2C
- It is very rare to find a transport carrier that will service all these needs.
Particularly for ‘low volume’ or small business users.
- ◇ No need to drop off the goods at a depot or post office.
 - ◇ This saves down time from work or family life.

Why is Smart Send the solution for you?

Competitive pricing for low volume users

- ◇ In many cases we are more than half the price of other carriers on the eBay Postage Centre page (Air Road, Pack&Send and Paymate Express/DHL).
- ◇ We are also competitive with Australia Post for consignments over 5kg and Bus Freight (our closest competitors); bearing in mind we provide a 'door to door' service.

- ◇ The Smart Send 'Received Delivery' service provides sellers peace of mind with the ability to prove delivery to buyers should a dispute arise.
- ◇ This service ensures the consignment is signed for (as delivered) by the receiver and an electronic image can be provided to the customer if requested.
- ◇ If no-one is at the delivery address to accept the goods, the driver will leave a card and the receiver can call the local depot to arrange a re-delivery (or pickup from the depot if preferred).

- Do you run a small business and want fair freight prices without added fees?
- Or do you just need to send a present to a loved one?

Why you should use Smart Send

Smart Send's focus is purely on low volume users. For far too long, major courier/freight companies have discouraged trade with low volume users because of the low level of demand on their services. Feedback from current customers:

"...so impressed with your service that I wanted to email you to say thanks. I will use your service again and now have the confidence to bid on items interstate. I will also recommend you to all my friends who also can use your service.

Thankyou Tamara crash245@bigpond.com

Thanks Wendy & Chris - bag received today in perfect condition and with all the surprises I have been waiting for inside the bag.

GO SMART SEND!! I'll be recommending this service.

Feedback from current customers:

I want to tell you about my experience with Smart Send. I recently used it for the first time for an eBay sale. It was so easy to work out the cost from your website and how to print the labels and organise the pick up time. I did a price comparison with two other freight companies plus Australia Post and Smart Send came out tops.

With the other companies, I would have had to deliver the package to their premises. The pick up was within the requested time and date and the courier was very pleasant.

I am so impressed with your service - five stars from this retired baby boomer who was concerned she would have trouble using this web service!

I will definitely be using your services again.

Sincerely
J. Williams
